Monday March 19th and the meeting will begin at 7:00p.m. to allow plenty of time to have our Club Auction

Welcome and hello to our members , friends and visitors

First, I would like to apologise for the mass confusion with last month's auction. The easiest way to fix this problem is for members putting items in the auction please clearly specify what month they would like them in if possible. This way John can list them ahead of time . The first 30 items received will be in the next auction.

We hope to have 30 items in our auctions consistently on a regular basis.

There is still a number of members that have not given the membership sheet to Laura yet, so please hand them in.

There was an interesting article in Wednesday February 28th edition of the London Free Press in regards to the Bank of Canada asking people to turn in $1,$2, 1937 $25 $500 and $1000 notes in to receive the full printed value. The article did not take into account how many of these notes are in collectors collections so any that are turned in and destroyed will only make the collectors notes more valuable .

If anyone has seen or written an article that they think would be of interest to the club submit it to Laura or myself so we can share it.

Something new that I would like to introduce into our meetings is that if anyone has an interesting item that they have or if they have something that they are not sure of bring it to the meeting for SHOW and TELL and share it with our club.

This month is our CLUB AUCTION that has a good variety of items and some of rarer and a slightly higher reserve than we normally see so dig out the sock and bring a little extra cash with you.

HAMMER DOWN

Ron Culbert

February 19, 2018

Meeting called to order at 7:36 pm by President Ron Culbert. We need current addresses of either email or postal addresses as we are having things bounced back.

There is a RCNA token collection that is up for sale. The full set is located at the back of the room. Ron Culbert gave a quick talk of 2 articles from the Canadian Numismatic Journal. One was the 1987 note release from the Canadian Numismatic Journal and the was about the Coin Catalogues.

All items for the March auction must be submitted to Ron Culbert by February 26, 2018 nothing will be added after the February 26th date.

Break was called at 7:55 pm.

Most of the items listed in tonight's auction list were intended for the member auction in March so we are not going to be doing the published auction instead we are going with an impromptu auction tonight.

8:34 pm the meeting was called to close. Stan Demarius made the motion to adjourn and Fred Mabee seconded.
